ABOUT

Grape Bunch Protection Cover — Rain & Disease Shield for Premium Table Grapes

Agrifirst Grape Cover is a specialized micro-perforated protective sleeve designed for table grape bunches. Grape bunches are extremely vulnerable to rain-induced berry cracking, downy mildew, Botrytis (grey mold), and bird damage during the critical ripening period. This cover provides a physical barrier against all these threats while allowing air circulation for healthy bunch development.

DESCRIPTION

Agrifirst Grape Cover is a crop-specific protective sleeve engineered for India's growing table grape industry. Rain during the ripening period is the single biggest threat to grape quality — causing berry cracking, promoting downy mildew and Botrytis, and rendering entire harvests unsellable. This cover provides decisive rain protection at the individual bunch level.

Key Benefits

- Rain Crack Prevention — Shields berries from direct rain impact that causes splitting and cracking
- Disease Reduction — Keeps bunches dry, reducing Botrytis, downy mildew, and anthracnose by 60–80%
- Bird Exclusion — Physical barrier prevents bird damage to ripening grapes
- Improved Berry Color — Diffused light environment promotes even color development
- Export-Quality Output — Protected bunches consistently meet export grape standards
- Breathable Design — Micro-perforations allow air circulation, preventing humidity buildup
